LITERARY CLUB

Coordinator: Dr. K. Yugandhar, Professor of English, Freshman Engineering Department.

The Literary Club at Geethanjali College of Engineering and Technology was established at the institution's inception to foster interaction among students across departments and academic years. The club promotes interpersonal skills, creative thinking, and cultural awareness.

Distinct from a traditional literature club, the Literary Club focuses on enhancing students' expression, communication, collaboration, and community engagement. It provides a supportive environment for students to express themselves clearly, confidently, and concisely through various events and competitions.

The Literary Club has organized a total of 67 events, with participation from 2,203 students. In the first semester of the academic year, 30 events were conducted, engaging 1,388 students and 48 faculty members. Among them, 140 students were recognized as winners in various competitions. In the second semester, 37 events were held, drawing 865 student participants, with 134 students awarded for their outstanding performance. The Literary Club extends its appreciation to all participants and winners for their enthusiastic involvement and commendable communication skills.

2. Podcast - Insights from students on Happiness and Success

15th August, 2024

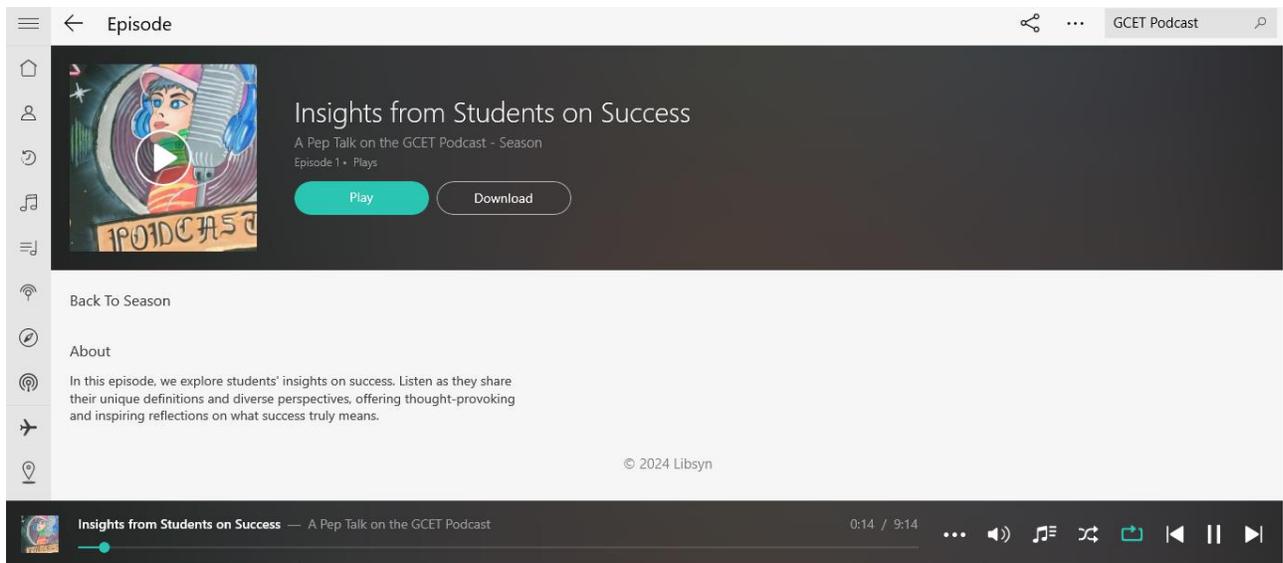

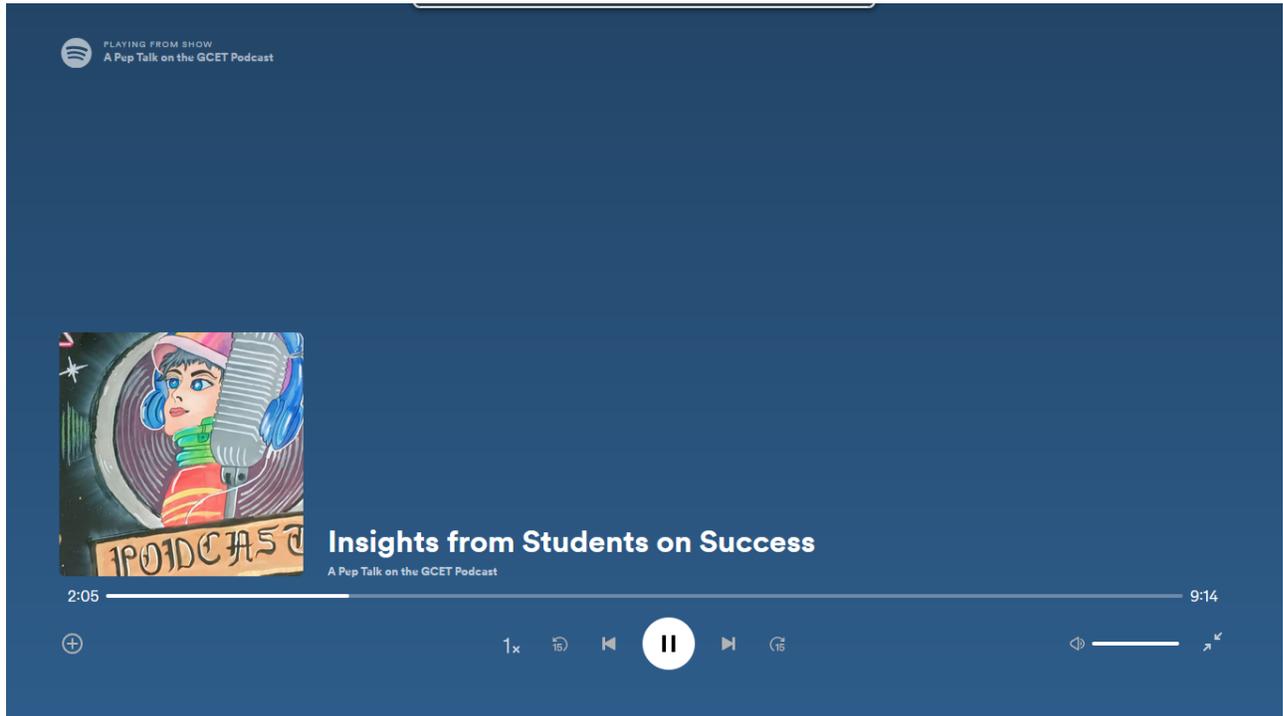

16 students

In this episode, we dive into the thoughts and perspectives of college students on what it truly means to be happy and successful. As we hear directly from students, they share personal stories, life lessons, and the little things that bring them joy amidst academic pressures and future ambitions. We explore how happiness is perceived beyond achievements, while success is redefined to include personal growth, relationships, and fulfillment. This episode offers a refreshing look at how today's students navigate these profound concepts in their own lives. Whether it's learning to balance studies and social life, setting meaningful goals, or simply finding time to enjoy the present, these insights reveal how students see happiness and success as intertwined journeys. Tune in to gain a unique understanding of the values and ideas that inspire young minds today!

Screenshots of Poster Making Contest: Artistic Expressions - A Tribute to Our Teachers

This screenshot shows the Google Forms editor interface. At the top, the title "Artistic Expressions - A Tribute to Our Teachers" is displayed, along with a "Send" button and a notification that "All changes saved in Drive". Below the title, there are tabs for "Questions", "Responses" (with a count of 18), and "Settings". The main content area features a header image of colorful paint splatters. Below the image is a text box containing the title "Artistic Expressions - A Tribute to Our Teachers" and a sub-header "Teachers' Day Poster Making Contest". A note at the bottom of the text box states: "This form is automatically collecting emails from all respondents. Change settings". A vertical toolbar on the right side of the editor provides options for adding, deleting, and editing form elements.

This screenshot shows the "Responses" view of the Google Form. It displays "18 responses" and includes a "View in Sheets" button. A toggle switch for "Accepting responses" is currently turned on. Below this, there are three tabs: "Summary", "Question", and "Individual". The "Who has responded?" section is active, showing a list of email addresses: keertanasai157@gmail.com, sandhinavina@gmail.com, govulashridhar7@gmail.com, and ghanas7711@gmail.com. A watermark for "Activate Windows" is visible in the bottom right corner.

The Outcomes:

The Literary Club successfully organized a Slogan Writing Competition on the theme “My Teacher, My Inspiration” to commemorate Teachers’ Day. The event witnessed enthusiastic participation, with students crafting impactful and creative slogans to express gratitude for their teachers. The competition enhanced linguistic skills by emphasizing brevity, clarity, and the use of powerful language while reinforcing the significance of educators in shaping young minds. Many entries stood out for their originality and heartfelt messages, reflecting the profound influence of teachers. The event fostered respect and appreciation for mentors, leaving a lasting impression on both participants and teachers.

The Essay Writing Challenge - Tribute to Inspiring Personalities, organized by the Literary Club, provided students with an opportunity to express gratitude towards mentors and educators. Participants demonstrated strong writing skills through well-structured essays, articulating the influence of inspiring personalities on their values and aspirations. The challenge enhanced their ability to write with coherence, clarity, and analytical depth while fostering a deeper appreciation for the role of teachers. The event successfully encouraged thoughtful reflection, intellectual engagement, and creative expression, making it both enriching and impactful.

The Poster Making Contest: Artistic Expressions - A Tribute to Our Teachers, conducted by the Literary Club, served as a platform for students to convey their admiration for educators through visual art. Participants created compelling posters with meaningful messages, showcasing their creativity and appreciation for teachers. The contest promoted visual storytelling, encouraging students to express gratitude artistically while reinforcing the essential role of educators in shaping future generations. The event nurtured creative thinking and self-expression, leaving a lasting impact on participants and making it a memorable tribute to teachers.

Screenshots of Elocution Competition

The screenshot shows a Google Forms interface for an 'Elocution Video Upload' competition. The form title is 'Wings of Words - Elocution Competition'. The instructions state: 'Showcase your public speaking skills by recording 2 to 3 minutes video and send. This competition is open to all GCET students. Participation certificate to all participants and prizes for top performers. Participate now and let your voice soar.' The form is currently in 'Questions' mode, with 28 responses. The browser address bar shows the form URL: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/1NcqBXWT6ZQmnHr9wI9IRTKya-ZOnUts0hT7HRGzf_DY/edit. The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the time as 13:06 on 12-12-2024.

Topic	Percentage
Artificial Intelligence - A friend or Foe	14.3%
Reusability in Space	14.3%
Drone Regulations	10.7%
Social Networking - A friend or Foe	17.9%
Internet - A friend or Foe	14.3%
India as a Global Leader	14.3%
Technology - A friend or Foe	14.3%
Artificial Intelligence - A friend or Foe	14.3%

Below the chart, there is a section titled 'Provide your video drive link.' with 28 responses. The browser address bar shows the response URL: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/1NcqBXWT6ZQmnHr9wI9IRTKya-ZOnUts0hT7HRGzf_DY/edit#responses. The Outcome:

The online elocution competition, themed 'Wings of Words,' held on the occasion of Gandhi Jayanti, witnessed enthusiastic participation from 28 B.Tech. students. The event aimed to encourage reflective thinking and effective articulation on contemporary topics. Links to the competition were actively shared on WhatsApp, ensuring wide engagement.

Students expressed their views eloquently on topics such as Artificial Intelligence - A Friend or Foe, Reusability in Space, and India as a Global Leader, among others. Their speeches highlighted both opportunities and challenges in these fields, reflecting a well-rounded understanding.

The competition not only honed the participants' public speaking skills but also inspired thoughtful discussions on the role of technology and leadership in shaping the future. The event successfully fostered intellectual growth and reinforced the importance of communication as a tool for societal impact, aligning with the theme's spirit of empowering thoughts and ideas.

1. Podcast - Beyond the Books: Satwik and Nyneeta Explore Study Abroad Insights

5th October, 2024

04 students

In this episode of Campus Conversations, we dive into a conversation in which two engineering students exploring practicalities of pursuing study abroad. The discussion highlights the academic, personal, and cultural impacts of studying in foreign countries. We explore the opportunities, such as access to cutting-edge research and global networks, and the challenges students face, from homesickness to adapting to new educational systems. Whether you are considering taking the leap into international education or simply curious about the experiences of those who have, this episode provides a well-rounded view of the study abroad experience from the lens of engineering students. Tune in for an engaging discussion that highlights the life-changing impact of studying overseas.

Objective: The objective of this podcast episode is to provide listeners with a comprehensive understanding of the practicalities and impacts of pursuing study abroad, specifically from the perspective of engineering students. By highlighting both opportunities and challenges, the episode aims to equip students with the knowledge and insights needed to make informed decisions about international education.

Outcome: Listeners will gain valuable insights into the academic, personal, and cultural aspects of studying abroad. They will learn about the benefits of access to cutting-edge research and global networks, as well as the challenges such as homesickness and adapting to new educational systems. This episode will empower students to navigate the study abroad experience with confidence and a well-rounded perspective.

2. Podcast - Balancing Academics and Social Life: Akshad & Sameera's Tips for Staying Organized

04 students

In this engaging episode of Campus Conversations, Akshad and Sameera take listeners through their personal journey of balancing academic demands with the excitement of college social life. College isn't just about textbooks and exams—it's also about building lasting friendships, joining clubs, attending events, and creating unforgettable memories. But how do you manage all of that without letting your grades suffer?

Akshad and Sameera share practical tips for staying organized and focused while still enjoying the full college experience. From creating efficient to-do lists to setting realistic goals and prioritizing tasks, they reveal their strategies for keeping up with assignments, group projects, and extracurricular activities. They also discuss how to avoid burnout, manage stress, and make time for self-care amidst a busy schedule. Whether you're a freshman adjusting to college life or an upperclassman seeking better organization techniques, this episode offers valuable insights on achieving a healthy balance between academics and social life.

Zero to One: Engineering Students' Perspectives on Innovation and Startups

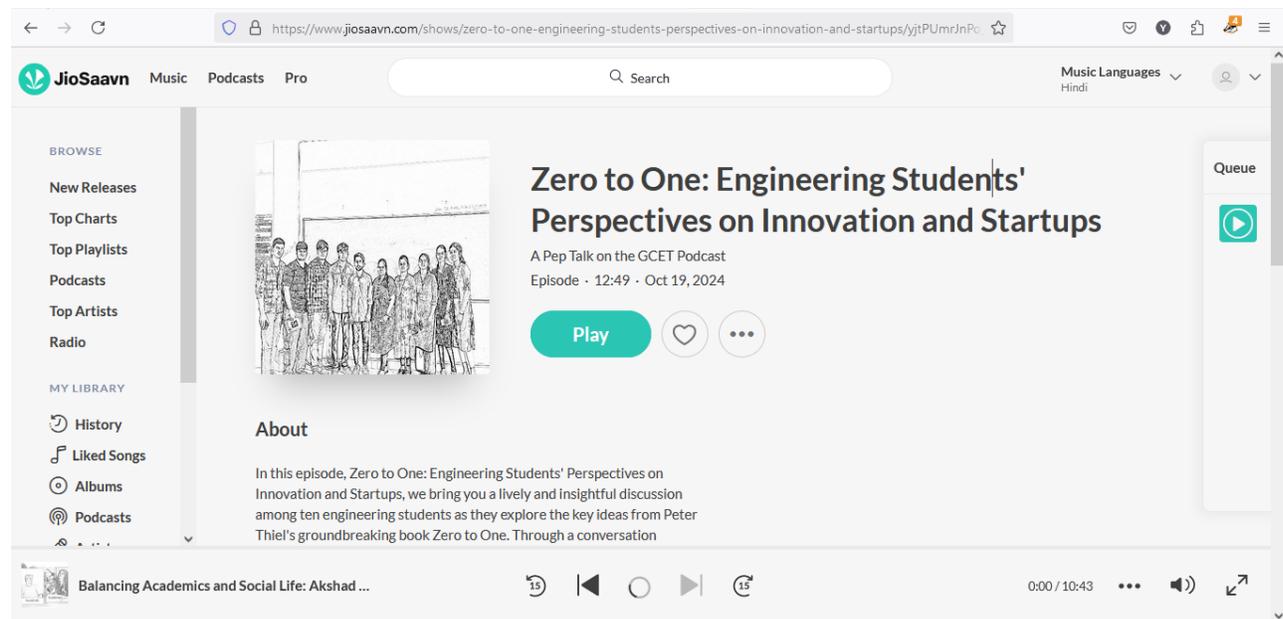

19th October, 2024

31 students

Episode Description

In this episode, Zero to One: Engineering Students' Perspectives on Innovation and Startups, we bring you a lively and insightful discussion among ten engineering students as they explore the key ideas from Peter Thiel's groundbreaking book Zero to One. Through a conversation centred on entrepreneurship, innovation, and creating the future, these aspiring engineers share how Thiel's concepts resonate with their observations, experiences and aspirations. They delve into the importance of thinking independently, building monopolies, and moving beyond competition to create entirely new ideas and industries. From practical takeaways to thought-provoking reflections, this episode sheds light on how the principles of Zero to One can be applied in the world of engineering and technology. Whether you're an aspiring entrepreneur or a tech enthusiast, tune in for fresh perspectives from the next generation of innovators as they discuss the path to making groundbreaking changes.

2. The episode will inspire and equip aspiring entrepreneurs and tech enthusiasts with practical takeaways and thought-provoking reflections, empowering them to pursue innovative paths and make groundbreaking changes in their respective fields.

4. Podcast Alchemist Book Review – Dreams & Destiny: Freshmen Decode the Alchemist

26th October, 2024

07 students

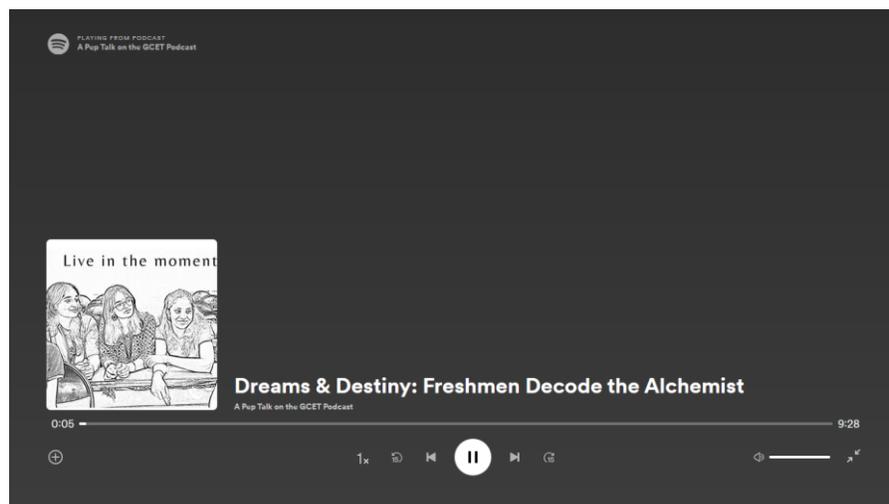

Episode Description:

In this engaging episode, five Freshman Engineering students come together to discuss The Alchemist by Paulo Coelho, exploring its timeless themes and memorable lessons. As they dive into Santiago's journey, they reflect on the idea of pursuing one's "Personal Legend" and what it means to follow a dream against all odds.

Each student brings a unique perspective, touching on the importance of resilience, the role of intuition, and the transformative power of self-discovery that Coelho emphasizes. Together, they unpack the symbolism behind the desert, the alchemy process, and the characters Santiago encounters, considering how these elements relate to real-life experiences and aspirations. Whether you're a long-time fan or new to the story, this discussion promises fresh insights and practical takeaways that go beyond the book. Tune in for an inspiring exchange that reveals how The Alchemist continues to speak to readers' hearts around the world.

The Outcomes:

Outcomes of Slogan Writing Competition

The 6th edition of the Fit India Mission 2004 slogan writing competition, themed “Health and Ambition: A Winning Duo,” successfully engaged students in exploring the vital connection between fitness and personal aspirations. The event saw enthusiastic participation, with students crafting impactful slogans that creatively underscored the importance of a balanced lifestyle.

Through their slogans, participants highlighted the synergy between maintaining physical well-being and achieving professional goals, promoting the idea that health is the foundation of success. The competition fostered a deeper understanding of fitness as a daily priority and inspired students to reflect on their lifestyles.

Overall, the event successfully blended creativity with advocacy, encouraging students to embrace fitness as an integral part of their ambitions, thereby aligning with the core objectives of the Fit India Mission.

Outcomes of the Quiz Competition: Is Your Diet as Healthy as It Could Be?

The online quiz competition, organized as part of the 6th edition of the Fit India Mission, was a resounding success, fostering awareness about the importance of healthy eating habits. Participants actively engaged with thought-provoking questions that assessed their knowledge of nutrition and dietary practices.

The event encouraged students to reflect on their eating habits, identifying areas for improvement and the benefits of a balanced diet. It also introduced them to the concept of mindful eating and its impact on physical and mental well-being.

The competition effectively combined learning with engagement, inspiring students to adopt healthier dietary choices. This initiative aligned with the Fit India Mission's objectives, empowering students to prioritize fitness and nutrition in their daily lives.

Outcomes of Poster Making Contest: Health First, Success Follows!

The Poster Making Contest, themed "Health First, Success Follows!" organized as part of the 6th edition of the Fit India Mission, successfully inspired students to creatively express the importance of health and its role in achieving success. Participants showcased their artistic talents, creating visually appealing and thought-provoking posters that emphasized physical fitness, mental well-being, and their connection to personal and professional growth.

The event fostered awareness among students about the need to prioritize health as a foundation for success in life. It encouraged participants to adopt and promote a fitness-oriented lifestyle, resonating with the mission's core objectives. The contest also highlighted the power of visual art as a medium to spread impactful messages, leaving a lasting impression on both the participants and viewers.

The Outcome:

The Fitness Pledge event inspired participants to adopt healthier lifestyles by raising awareness about the importance of balanced eating and regular exercise. Students gained practical knowledge through Ms. Rithika Singh's motivational talk, which emphasized achievable fitness goals and the significance of incorporating fitness into daily routines. The interactive nature of the session encouraged participants to reflect on their habits and take proactive steps toward improving their physical and mental well-being.

A key outcome of the event was the commitment fostered among students to maintain long-term fitness practices. By pledging to prioritize their health, participants cultivated a sense of accountability and motivation. This initiative also laid the foundation for a health-conscious campus culture, where peers support and inspire each other. The integration of simple fitness activities into ELCS laboratory sessions further reinforced the message that fitness can seamlessly fit into academic schedules, leading to sustainable, positive lifestyle changes.

Episode Description

In this episode of Campus Conversations, we delve into the fascinating world of design through Donald Norman's seminal book, The Design of Everyday Things. Join host Shiva and guests Anvitha, Manikanta, and Dhakshitha as they uncover the secrets of intuitive design and share relatable stories – like fumbling with uncooperative doors, confusing coffee machines, and puzzling microwave controls.

From understanding affordances and signifiers to tackling bad mapping and poor feedback, this episode highlights how great design simplifies life while flawed design frustrates it. Packed with humor, campus anecdotes, and pop culture references, it's a fun yet insightful exploration of how design shapes our daily experiences.

Tune in to discover why, as Norman says, "When people make errors, blame the design, not the user." Start seeing the world with a designer's eye!

Episode Description

Artificial Intelligence is transforming education, but is it helping students grow smarter or making them overly reliant? In this thought-provoking episode of Campus Conversations by the Literary Club, host Shahista explores this timely question alongside her friends Kaustubh and Rushitha, first-year students specializing in AI and Machine Learning. Through real-life examples – from mastering exams with AI tools to navigating the pitfalls of dependency – the trio highlights the delicate balance between leveraging AI's potential and maintaining critical thinking skills. They discuss stories of success, cautionary tales, and inspiring quotes from pioneers like Andrew Ng and Fei-Fei Li. This episode dives into how AI can be a powerful ally in education when used responsibly. Join the conversation as they uncover how to make AI a tool for growth rather than a crutch for shortcuts. Tune in for insights, inspiration, and a fresh perspective on the role of AI in learning!

11th January, 2025

05 students

Episode Description

Welcome to Sankranthi Spirit: Rising and Reaping, a special episode of Campus Conversations brought to you by GCET's Literary Club! Hosted by Advika, a second-year Computer Science and Engineering student, this episode celebrates the festival of Sankranthi by sharing a story of hard work, perseverance, and remarkable success. Joining us are Indu, a dynamic third-year Computer Science student, and Sri Ram Charan, a fourth-year student, whose journey embodies the true spirit of Sankranthi. From creating a student collaboration platform, Pear-to-Peer, to securing a jaw-dropping 41 lakh campus placement, Sri Ram's story is one of resilience, growth, and soaring above challenges. As we reflect on the values of Sankranthi – hard work, rewards, and new beginnings – Sri Ram's insights offer inspiration for students striving to overcome obstacles and achieve their dreams. Tune in for a heart-warming conversation filled with lessons on perseverance, passion, and the joy of reaping what you sow! The Links:

The Outcomes:

The "Voices of Vision" competition on the topic of "Articulating Leadership Wisdom and Ideas" is designed to yield significant outcomes for its participants. Firstly, participants will experience marked improvement in their public speaking skills, gaining greater confidence and proficiency in their verbal delivery. By emulating the oratory styles of renowned leaders, they will learn effective techniques for engaging and inspiring their audience. Additionally, the competition will broaden participants' perspectives on leadership. Exposure to the diverse ideas and wisdom of historical and contemporary leaders will enable participants to integrate these insights into their own leadership practices. This fusion of acquired knowledge and personal growth will foster innovation and adaptability in their professional and personal lives, ultimately contributing to the development of well-rounded, forward-thinking leaders.

The "Snap & Caption" competition, focused on "Superheroes in Real Life," is expected to yield significant outcomes for its participants. One of the primary outcomes is an increased appreciation for everyday acts of heroism. Participants will develop a heightened awareness and admiration for the unsung heroes around them, recognizing their valuable contributions and fostering a more positive and supportive community environment. Additionally, participants will enhance their visual storytelling skills through the process of capturing and captioning their heroes. By thoughtfully combining imagery and words, they will learn to convey powerful and inspiring messages, honing their ability to tell compelling stories. These outcomes will not only celebrate everyday heroes but also equip participants with valuable skills in visual communication and storytelling.

The "Idea Pitch Competition" on the topic of "How to Reduce Plastic Waste?" aims to yield impactful outcomes for its participants. Firstly, participants will experience an increase in environmental literacy, gaining a stronger awareness of the complexities surrounding plastic waste. This newfound knowledge will enable them to develop a more informed perspective on sustainability practices, fostering a deeper commitment to environmental stewardship. Additionally, the competition will stimulate the development of practical solutions. Through the creative process of ideation and presentation, participants will identify and share a variety of innovative approaches to reducing plastic waste. These solutions, ranging from technological advancements to behavioral changes, will contribute to ongoing efforts to mitigate plastic pollution at both local and global levels. Overall, the competition will empower participants to become active contributors to a more sustainable future.

Episode Description

In this inspiring episode of Campus Conversations by the Literary Club, we explore the timeless wisdom of Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam through the theme Dream, Dare, Deliver: Lessons from a Missile Man. Join hosts Pradeepthi and Tejaswani as they uncover how Dr. Kalam's journey – from a small town in Rameswaram to becoming India's President – teaches us about dreaming big, taking risks, and striving for excellence.

Through real-life stories of resilience, from the struggles of J.K. Rowling to student-led innovations, this episode will leave you motivated to pursue your own aspirations. With thought-provoking discussions, relatable campus experiences, and powerful quotes from leaders like Steve Jobs and Malala Yousafzai, this conversation is a must-listen for students, innovators, and dreamers alike. Tune in and be inspired to turn your dreams into reality – because, as Dr. Kalam said, "Excellence is a continuous process, not an accident."

The Outcomes:

The Reverse Regalia event, conducted as part of the International Women's Day and Holi celebrations, proved to be a vibrant and meaningful activity that resonated deeply with the college students. Symbolizing unity in diversity, the game involved teams moving a colorful robe in coordinated motion, reflecting the strength of collective effort and harmony. The activity encouraged students to recognize the beauty of inclusivity and mutual respect—values central to both the spirit of Holi and the celebration of womanhood. Participants not only enjoyed the playful and festive atmosphere but also developed a deeper appreciation for teamwork, empathy, and shared purpose. The event served as a symbolic reminder that just as colors blend beautifully in Holi, individuals of diverse backgrounds and identities can come together to form a strong and supportive community. Overall, the activity enriched the students' understanding of unity, resilience, and the importance of collaboration in fostering equality and celebration.

The Balloon Tower Game, organized on the occasion of International Women's Day and the Holi festival, offered a vibrant and meaningful experience for college students. Symbolizing women's resilience, strength, and unity, the activity required participants to collaboratively build a tower using only balloons and gum tape. As students strategized, supported one another, and overcame challenges during the game, it mirrored the collective power of women working together to create strong foundations in society. The event not only celebrated the spirit of Holi with color and joy but also reinforced the significance of cooperation, patience, and creative problem-solving. Through laughter and teamwork, students gained a deeper appreciation for the strength found in unity, especially in contexts where women come together to uplift one another. The event left a lasting impression, inspiring participants to carry forward the message of equality, solidarity, and resilience in their personal and academic journeys.

The Cup Game, conducted as part of the International Women's Day and Holi celebrations, served as a vibrant representation of balance, teamwork, and equality. Students actively participated in this rhythmic group activity, where the synchronized passing of cups accompanied by music highlighted the importance of coordination and collective effort. The game not only brought joy and energy to the celebration but also symbolized how mutual support and collaboration are essential for achieving progress, especially in the context of gender equality. By engaging in a task that required attentiveness, patience, and unity, students experienced the value of working together toward a common goal. The festive setting of Holi added color and enthusiasm, reinforcing the spirit of inclusivity and harmony. Overall, the event successfully combined fun and purpose, leaving participants with a deeper appreciation for equality, shared responsibility, and the strength found in community and cooperation.

Episode Description

In this exciting episode of Campus Conversations, host Keerthi, a Computer Science and Engineering student specializing in AI & ML, is joined by fellow cricket enthusiasts Divyesh, Jaya Prakash, Sreekar, Aryan, and Varnit. Together, they dive deep into the much-anticipated ICC Champions Trophy 2025, marking the tournament's grand return after eight years.

The discussion covers key aspects such as Pakistan hosting an ICC event after decades, the intense India-Pakistan clash, major player changes, and Afghanistan's historic debut. The speakers also explore the impact of conditions, high-scoring pitches, and the role of spinners in shaping the tournament's outcomes. Additionally, they highlight an inspiring grassroots cricket initiative that is making a difference beyond the stadiums.

Tune in for expert insights, exciting predictions, and a celebration of cricket's most thrilling moments. Don't miss this deep dive into the tournament that has every cricket fan buzzing!

In this episode of Campus Conversations, the official podcast of the Literary Club, we dive into the world of User Interface (UI) and User Experience (UX) design – the driving forces behind smooth, user-friendly apps. Rishik, a second-year CSE student, joins Bhargavi and Neetha, first-year CSE students, to discuss UI/UX principles, real-life design failures, and lessons from their own app project.

We'll explore how Netflix keeps users engaged, how Google Classroom improved after a UI/UX revamp, and why 88% of users abandon an app after a bad experience. Plus, we'll cover emerging trends like personalization, motion design, and accessibility in app development.

Whether you're an aspiring app developer, project enthusiast, or just curious about tech design, this episode is packed with insights and practical takeaways to help you create apps that don't just look good – they work flawlessly!

06 students

In this episode of Campus Conversations, we take a deep dive into the extraordinary journey of Sunita Williams—a record-breaking astronaut, engineer, and inspiration to millions. Hosted by Kushal, Priyadarshini, and Naazneen, this episode explores ten powerful lessons from her life that can inspire engineering students and aspiring innovators.

From her days as a Navy test pilot to completing over 50 hours of spacewalks, Sunita's story is a testament to perseverance, resilience, and the power of continuous learning. We discuss her contributions to space exploration, science, and fitness, her Indian heritage, and how she became a role model for students worldwide.

As Sunita herself once said, "Don't be afraid to try something that's hard. The challenge itself will make you stronger." Tune in for an engaging and motivational conversation that will remind you to dream big, push boundaries, and reach for the stars!

1. e-English Proficiency Quiz - Test yourself – how good is your English?

Objectives:

1. To assess participants' proficiency in English grammar, vocabulary, and comprehension through a self-evaluation quiz.
2. To identify individual strengths and areas for improvement in English language skills for academic and professional growth.

Outcomes:

1. Participants will gain a clear understanding of their current level of English proficiency.
2. Participants will receive personalized insights or feedback, helping them focus on specific areas for skill enhancement.

2. Slogan Writing Contest

Craft a powerful slogan on the theme "Language and Identity."

Objectives:

1. To encourage students to creatively express the deep connections between language, culture, and personal or collective identity through a powerful slogan.
2. To foster an appreciation for linguistic and cultural diversity, promoting a sense of pride and respect for one's heritage and others' traditions.

Outcomes:

1. Participants will develop a stronger understanding of how language and culture shape identity, enhancing their cultural sensitivity and creative communication skills.
2. Winning and selected slogans will be showcased to inspire broader conversations on the importance of preserving languages and cultures in a globalized world.

3. Poster Making Competition

Design a poster on the theme "Language and Culture."

Objectives:

1. To encourage students to creatively express the deep connection between language and culture through visual art.
2. To promote awareness and appreciation of linguistic and cultural diversity among participants.

Outcomes:

1. Participants will develop a deeper understanding of how language shapes cultural identity and heritage.
2. The posters will serve as powerful visual tools to inspire respect for multiculturalism within the community.

Language, culture, and identity are deeply interconnected and mutually influential. Language is a key carrier of culture, expressing values, beliefs, and traditions, and plays a crucial role in shaping and reflecting individual and group identities. Cultural identity is often expressed and reinforced through language, while language use can also be influenced by cultural context and social norms.

Language reflects culture: Specific words, expressions, and grammar often embody cultural beliefs and priorities.

Culture shapes language: Different societies create different ways of speaking based on their experiences and environments.

Language forms identity: The language(s) we speak influence how we see ourselves and how others see us. For many, speaking a particular language

The Outcomes:

The E-English Proficiency Quiz helps participants assess their current level of English language skills in a fun and engaging way. It encourages self-evaluation in key areas such as grammar, vocabulary, comprehension, and communication. By participating, students identify their strengths and areas needing improvement, which boosts their confidence and motivates them to enhance their proficiency. The quiz also creates awareness about the importance of English in academic, professional, and global communication contexts. It fosters a spirit of healthy competition and encourages continuous learning. Additionally, it offers insights into practical language usage, helping participants become more effective and articulate communicators. Overall, the quiz serves as both a learning tool and a stepping stone toward achieving higher English language competence.

Participants will gain a stronger understanding of how language acts as the foundation of cultural expression and personal identity. Through crafting impactful slogans, students will learn to condense complex ideas into concise and memorable phrases, sharpening their creative and critical thinking skills. The contest will foster a sense of pride in linguistic and cultural heritage, inspiring students to recognize the importance of preserving and celebrating diversity. The slogans created will serve as lasting reminders of the role language plays in shaping individual and collective identities, promoting unity in diversity across the campus community.

The poster making competition on the theme "Language and Culture" will encourage students to creatively explore and express the powerful relationship between language, traditions, and identity. Through their artistic interpretations, participants will develop a deeper appreciation for the richness and diversity of languages around the world. They will also gain insights into how language acts as a bridge that connects people, preserves heritage, and shapes societies. By engaging in this creative exercise, students will enhance their visual communication skills and cultural sensitivity. The final posters will serve as impactful visual representations that promote multicultural awareness and respect within the community. Overall, the competition aims to inspire participants to value linguistic and cultural diversity as vital parts of human connection and global unity.

05 students

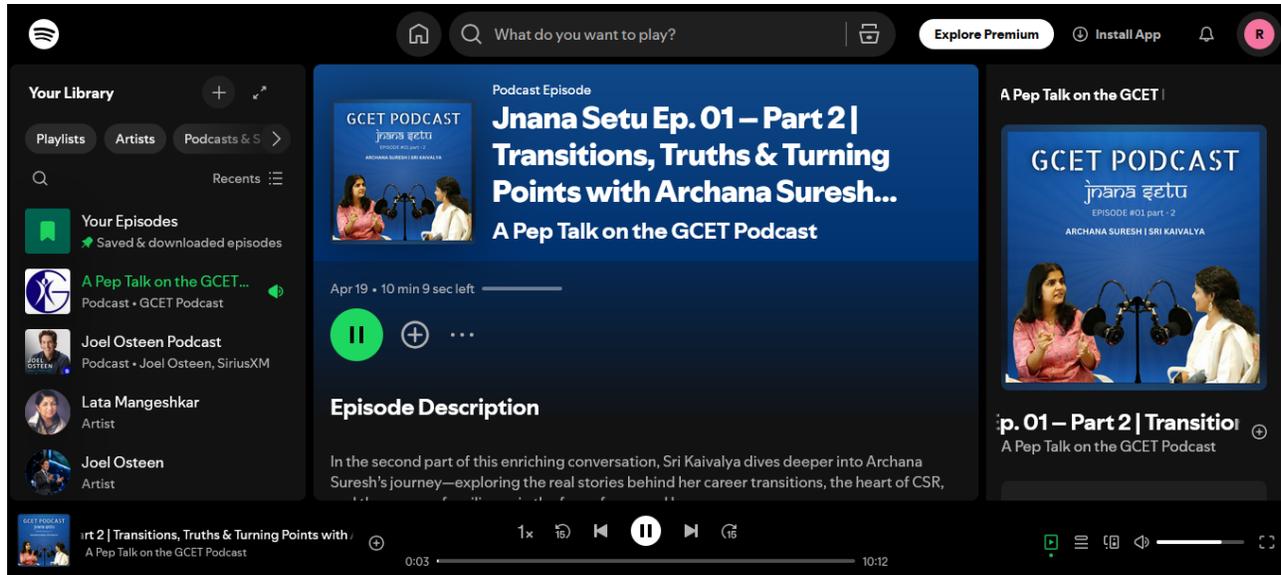

In the second part of this enriching conversation, Sri Kaivalya dives deeper into Archana Suresh's journey – exploring the real stories behind her career transitions, the heart of CSR, and the power of resilience in the face of personal loss.

- 🏠 How do you turn a rejection into redirection?
- 🌱 What does CSR really look like beyond the policies and PowerPoints?
- 🧠 How can students prioritize mental well-being without falling behind?
- ✨ And what does it mean to carry forward personal grief into purposeful impact?

Archana opens up about her school days, the start of Bring A Smile Foundation, and the often-unseen dilemmas behind doing “the right thing.” Her wisdom is equal parts practical and profound – perfect for anyone standing at a crossroads.

🎧 Tune in to be moved, motivated, and mindfully challenged.

Shakespeare Still Slaps: From Sonnets to Social Media dives into the timeless genius of the Bard with a Gen Z twist! Hosts Rohitha and Vasavi, first-year CSE students, celebrate English Day 2025 by unpacking why Shakespeare’s words still hit hard—from “situationships” to social media bios. With sharp quotes, pop culture parallels, and personal reflections, this episode explores how themes of love, ambition, and betrayal remain as relevant today as they were 400 years ago. Whether it's decoding The Tempest as a proto-AI vision or quoting Hamlet before a Monday class, the duo proves literature isn’t just alive—it’s vibing. Featuring insights from Indian icons like Tagore and Kalam, plus nods to Bollywood adaptations, this episode is perfect for literature lovers, curious coders, and anyone wondering why Shakespeare still owns the stage.

2nd May. 2025

In this deeply moving episode, hosts Khyathi and Neha reflect on the devastating terror attack in Pahalgam, Jammu and Kashmir, where 26 innocent lives were lost. More than recounting events, this episode is a heartfelt call for empathy, awareness, and action.

From eyewitness accounts and policy gaps to student-led peace marches and stories of extraordinary courage, the conversation moves through grief, reflection, and hope. The hosts explore how youth, education, responsible media, and inclusive governance can pave the way for a more peaceful future – not just for Kashmir, but for all of us.

Featuring powerful quotes, thoughtful insights, and a clear roadmap forward, this episode urges listeners to transform pain into purpose and silence into solidarity. Because peace isn't passive – it's a choice we make every day.

Objectives:

1. To raise awareness about the Pahalgam terror attack and honor the lives lost by sharing accurate information, eyewitness accounts, and the emotional aftermath of the tragedy.

2. To encourage critical reflection among listeners on the roles of youth, education, media, and governance in shaping a peaceful and inclusive society.
3. To inspire collective action by highlighting peace-building initiatives like student-led marches and advocating for empathy, civic engagement, and solidarity in response to violence.

Outcomes:

1. Listeners will develop a deeper understanding of the socio-political and emotional impact of terrorism, especially on local communities and young people in conflict zones.
2. Listeners will be motivated to participate in or initiate conversations, projects, or campaigns that promote peace, responsible media consumption, and social unity.

2. STEM and She: Rewriting India's Scientific Story

Number of students: 4

10th May. 2025

This Mother's Day, Campus Conversations presents a heartfelt tribute to the women shaping India's future in STEM. Hosts Lalith and Priyanka explore the stories of mothers, daughters, mentors, and pioneers who are rewriting India's scientific story – one breakthrough at a time. From the control rooms of ISRO to the classrooms of IITs, women like Ritu Karidhal, Tessy Thomas, and Sudha Murthy have shown that science and motherhood can go hand in hand. We dive into the challenges they've faced – career breaks, biases, lack of role models – and the powerful change they've sparked. Through inspiring quotes, myth-busting moments, and a call to action for allies, this episode celebrates the strength, sacrifice, and brilliance of women in STEM – especially those balancing equations and expectations, labs and lullabies. On this Mother's Day, we honour not just the mothers in science but every woman nurturing knowledge, innovation, and the next generation of dreamers.

In this powerful episode, Indu (3rd year CSE) and Varshini (2nd year CSE) dive into a topic every student has faced but few openly discuss – rejection. From failed exams and missed opportunities to setbacks in competitions and clubs, they explore how rejection is often just the beginning of a better path.

Segment by segment, they walk through:

- Rejected – understanding and normalizing failure with stories from A.R. Rahman, Kalpana Chawla, and personal experiences.
- Redirected – how one closed door often leads to an unexpected, better one, featuring reflections on movies like Hi Nanna and real-life redirections.
- Reignited – the spark that follows the fall, with examples from Nelson Mandela, PV Sindhu, and more.

Packed with quotes, real talk, and motivation, this episode reminds you: you're not the rejection – you're the comeback. Tune in now, and share it with someone who needs a boost!

7th June. 2025

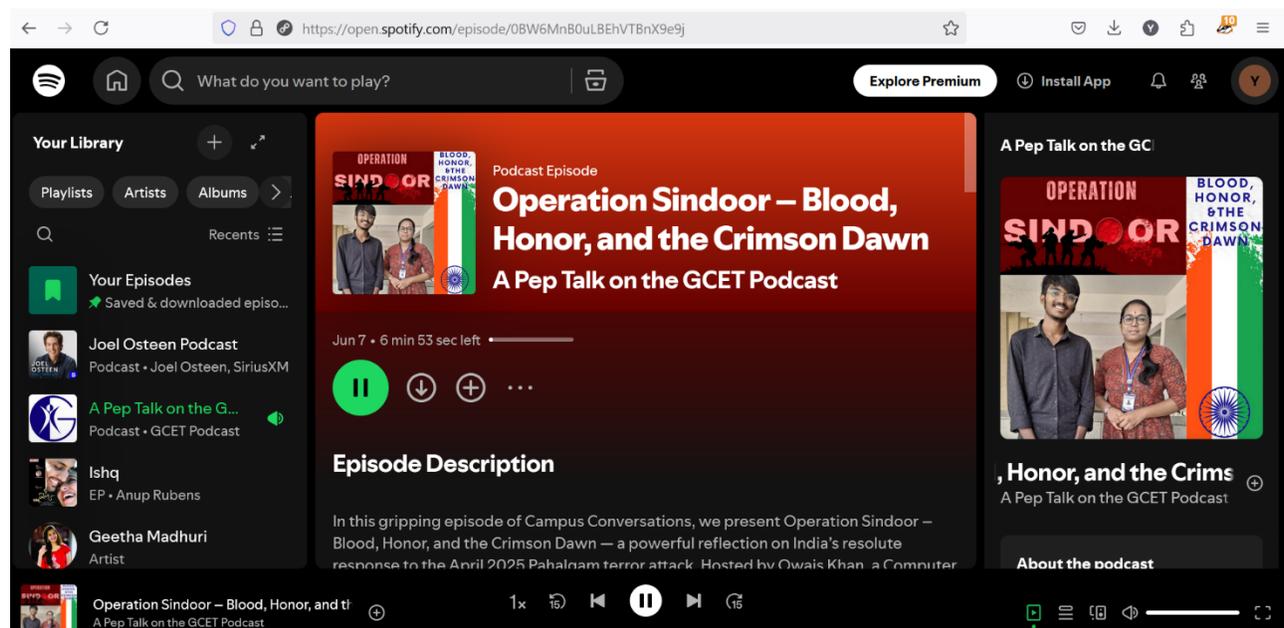

In this gripping episode of Campus Conversations, we present Operation Sindoor – Blood, Honor, and the Crimson Dawn – a powerful reflection on India’s resolute response to the April 2025 Pahalgam terror attack. Hosted by Owais Khan, a Computer Science student specializing in AI & ML, the episode sets the tone for a story of valour, sacrifice, and national spirit.

First-year students Vasavi and Koushik take you into the heart of the Indian Armed Forces’ strategic masterpiece – Operation Sindoor. From precision airstrikes and covert incursions to the inspiring leadership of Colonel Sofiya Qureshi and Wing Commander Vyomika Singh, this narrative goes beyond the battlefield. It explores diplomacy, symbolism, and the sacred meaning of sindoor – transformed from tradition to a powerful emblem of resistance.

This episode honours the 47 martyrs, celebrates the billion they protected, and calls every listener to reflect, remember, and rise.

Tune in, share the story, and keep the flame of awareness alive.

The main content area features the podcast title "Operation Sindoor – Blood, Honor, and the Crimson Dawn" in large white text. Below the title, it is identified as "A Pep Talk on the GCET Podcast" with a duration of "07-06-2025 • 7 mins". A play button and a share icon are visible. The description text reads: "In this gripping episode of Campus Conversations, we present Operation Sindoor – Blood, Honor, and the Crimson Dawn — a powerful reflection on India's resolute response to the April 2025 Pahalgam terror attack. Hosted by Owais Khan, a Computer Science student specializing in AI & ML, the episode sets the tone for a story of valour, sacrifice, and national spirit. First-year students Vasavi and Koushik take you into the heart of the Indian Armed Forces' strategic masterpiece — Operation Sindoor. From precision airstrikes and covert incursions to the inspiring leadership of Colonel Sofiya Qureshi and Wing Commander Vyomika Singh, this narrative goes beyond the battlefield. It explores diplomacy, symbolism, and the sacred meaning of sindoor — transformed from tradition to a powerful emblem of resistance. This episode honours the 47 martyrs, celebrates the billion they protected, and calls every listener to reflect, remember, and rise. Tune in, share the story, and keep the flame of awareness alive."

Objectives:

1. To inform listeners about the key events, leadership, and strategic aspects of Operation Sindoor, India's military response to the Pahalgam terror attack.
2. To inspire patriotism and respect by highlighting the courage, sacrifice, and resilience of the Indian Armed Forces and the 47 martyrs.
3. To create awareness about the broader implications of the operation, including its diplomatic significance and the powerful transformation of cultural symbols like sindoor into emblems of resistance.

Outcomes:

1. Listeners will gain a deeper understanding of Operation Sindoor, its military, diplomatic, and symbolic dimensions, and the heroes behind it.
2. The episode will foster a sense of national unity and reflection, encouraging students and young citizens to stay informed, honour sacrifices, and engage critically with current affairs.

14th June, 2025

In this inspiring episode of Campus Conversations by the GCET Literary Club, hosts Snehith, Nithya, and Nikhitha explore how the timeless teachings of the Bhagavad Gita offer powerful guidance for today's tech-driven world. From managing placement pressures and results anxiety to navigating AI ethics and digital distractions, the Gita's verses resonate deeply with the challenges of modern student life. Featuring relatable stories, quotes from Krishna to Steve Jobs, and reflections on focus, leadership, and self-worth, this episode invites listeners to see the Gita not as a relic, but as a system reboot for the soul. As futuristic battles in films like Kalki 2898 AD mirror our own struggles with technology and morality, we're reminded that the real battlefield lies within. Tune in, reflect, and discover how ancient wisdom can help the AI generation stay mindful, grounded, and resilient.

21st June, 2025

Behind every success story lies a tale of failure, resilience, and growth.

In this motivating episode of Campus Conversations, Chandrika and Himaja, second-year CSE students, dive deep into what it means to fail forward. From Yuvraj Singh's legendary comeback after cancer to relatable struggles in coding tests and semester projects, this episode reminds students that setbacks are setups for comebacks.

Featuring powerful quotes, real-life student stories, and practical tips on exam prep, mental wellness, and healthy habits – this episode is your mid-sem sanity dose.

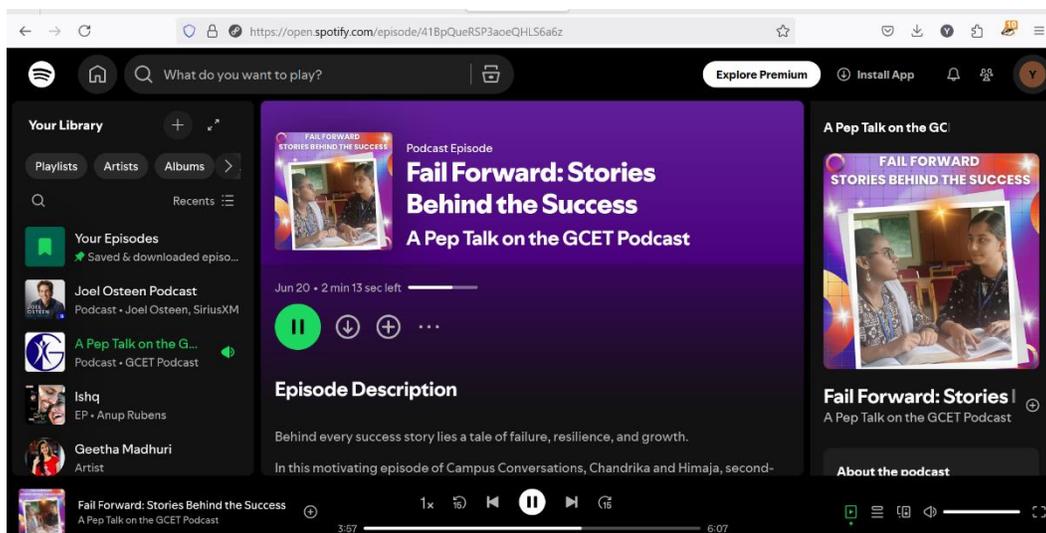

Whether you've faced a technical interview disaster, blanked out during an exam, or struggled to debug code – this is your reminder: Failure isn't final. It's feedback.

Tune in to hear:

- Why failing forward matters
- How to care for your body and mind during exams
- Ways to turn academic missteps into stepping stones

“Success is the sum of small efforts, repeated day in and day out.” – Robert Collier

28th June, 2025

The headlines may scream missiles, but the real battle is happening in our minds. Join Nirmal and Sai Madhav, two first-year engineering students with a passion for global affairs, as they unpack the Iran-Israel conflict – not just through news updates, but through the human stories and deeper questions it raises. From the historical roots of this rivalry to the latest missile strikes of 2025, they connect global tensions to student life in India – rising fuel prices, shrinking opportunities, and the creeping mental fatigue that comes with constant conflict. Through films like Major, Yevade Subramanyam, and Mahanati, they explore how war isn't just fought with weapons—but with mindsets. Can empathy, awareness, and dialogue pave the way to real peace? Tune in to discover how students like us can shift conversations from fear to understanding. Because true peace starts not on the battlefield, but within.

War and Peace: From Missiles to Mindsets 0:02 / 6:13

Objectives:

1. To explain the Iran-Israel conflict in a relatable way by connecting global events to everyday student experiences in India, such as fuel price hikes and economic uncertainties.
2. To promote critical thinking and empathy by exploring how media, films, and cultural narratives shape our understanding of war, peace, and human resilience.
3. To encourage youth engagement with global affairs by showing how informed conversations and mindset shifts can contribute to peace-building, even from a classroom or campus.

Outcomes:

1. Listeners will gain a clearer understanding of the Iran-Israel conflict beyond headlines, appreciating its historical roots and present-day impact on ordinary lives.
2. Students will feel motivated to engage in thoughtful dialogue about global issues, recognising that peace begins with awareness, empathy, and the conversations we create within our communities.
